well in Washington President Nixon's number-one domestic affairs advisor is John Ehrlichman and David shoemaker is with him now in the Shoreham Hotel in Washington David Howard he feels too good I'm gonna ask him whatever happened to Watergate I don't know I don't know apparently nothing we're going to see any more happen after this well you know they've got a trial of the accused in that case and that's gonna be tried and due course and I think that's probably the end of the story
